Germany to consider the French's strategic military

President Miller
hopes to present
a cabinet name
to Raymond

agents at his home tonight.

President admitted that had been only partially in forming a government made up by my tentative cabinet," he said:

foreign minister, vice premier and foreign minister, either governor of Alsace-Lorraine, minister of justice,

minister of war or penalty, minister of the interior.

De Lastic, minister of finance.

He asked M. Albert Sarraut's name to cable to Washington noting the head of the French delegation of his appointment as minister of the colonies.

M. Merlin has rejected my offer of a post in the cabinet, but he has agreed to remain at my disposal for foreign missions, especially for London, where he expects to return

De Lastic and myself have had a conference this evening concerning the plans for the finance ministry.

It was reported this evening that Poincaré had succeeded in finding only three ministers in his efforts of the last two days, owing chiefly to the hostility of parliamentary factions.

Andrew Tardieu, former French ambassador to the United States, sent a letter to M. Poincaré asking the post of minister for liberal regions. Earlier in the day it was reported that Tardieu had accepted this portfolio, succeeding Lionel, who was M. Briand's old hand man in all allied conferences. Tardieu's refusal came as a surprise in view of the fact that he was a supporter of M. Poincaré's National policy in parliament.

Following his meeting with M.
Briand, Lloyd George had an appointment to confer with former Prime Minister at the Hotel Crillon. The British premier expects to return to London tomorrow.

SUGGEST MANY FOR HAYS' JOB IN THE CABINET

Reported Harding Has Already Made Selection for Place, but Mad Swordsman Continues Secretary Likely to Come From West or Central West—No
Lack of Material for the Place.
Several Other Members Respected to Be About to Retire
From Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The first break in President Harding's cabinet came today—Will H. Hays announcing plans for retirement as postmaster-general on March 4, to accept the "dictatorship" of the moving picture industry for three years at a salary reported to be $150,000 annually.

Hays did not actually submit his resignation today, but he informed the President in a lengthy conference that he would like to retire, and the President said he would interpose no objection, although he said he was "more than sorry" to lose Hays from the cabinet family.

Tonight there was something akin to a scramble for the post left vacant by Hays. It was reported that President Harding already has selected his successor, but if true it is a closely guarded White House secret.

Reports that Senator Harry S. New
of Indiana would accept the post generally were denied by Senator New himself. He has no desire to leave the Senate, he said, and his friends asserted that if Senator New had wanted a cabinet post he would have taken it when it was offered him in President Harding's original cabinet.

The opinion was expressed tonight in political quarters that Hays' successor in all probability will come from the West or Central West, the western states already being well represented in the cabinet. Suggestions have poured into the White House ever since it first became known that Hays was considering retiring, and an administration official jocularly remarked tonight, "There is no lack of material."

Among the names suggested to the White House within the past week are:

Carmi Thompson of Ohio, widely known in Republican political circles, and closely identified with the campaign.

Dr. Hubert Work of Colorado, present first assistant postmaster-general Representative William R. Wood of Indiana.

Charles D. Hilles of New York, Republican national committeeman.

Governor Ed Morrow of Kentucky, C. H. Huston of Tennessee, who was considered for the secretaryship of commerce in the original cabinet,
and later appointed assistant secretary under Hoover.

Walter S. Dickey, Kansas City
Mc.

The name of General Charles G.
Dawes, present director of the budget, also has been frequently mentioned,
but General Dawes was also offered a post in the original cabinet and declined it and his friends said tonight
he was not a candidate for any cabinet position.

Political circles were filled with rumors tonight concerning Hays' successor. One rumor was that Carmi Thompson, who is now considered a possible candidate for the Republican nomination as senator from Ohio, would enter the cabinet and Attorney General Daugherty, who is also from Ohio, would resign and enter the senatorial race in Ohio, it is tall.
There was, of course, no confirmation of these rumors.

The resignation of Hays, however,
was accompanied by other reports of cabinet changes involving the names of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Attorney-General Daugherty. It has frequently been reported that Mellon was contemplating retiring to private life again, but these reports have been consistently denied by President Harding and by Mellon himself.

AMBASSADOR

in well informed circles that Sir

as British ambassador to the United States. The Daily Express stated to-

FLORIDA CHIEF WORRY OF DRY AGENTS IS ONE OF 5 "BAD STATES" SAY OFFICERS

DECREASE OF TWO BILLION
IN UNCLE SAM'S DRINK
BILL IN TWO YEARS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—An annual decrease of $2,000,000,000 in Uncle Sam's drink bill was the chief result of two years of prohibition, according to announcement tonight by the prohibition bureau.

The prohibition amendment, which celebrates its third birthday Monday, brought a reduction of 17,500,000 in the number of drinkers throughout the country, the bureau stated. Enforcement conditions have greatly improved and the bureau added, the law is being generally obeyed.

Five states are classed as "troublesome" in the opinion of dry agents.
These are New Jersey, Illinois (because of Chicago), Florida, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. Agents look upon conditions in New York as "very favorable" compared to the other "bad states."

Enforcement during the year cost the government $6,274,522, while taxes and assessments brought a return of $57,500,000. Dry agents throughout the country seized 350,000 gallons of liquor and $12,907,000 worth of property. This does not include property destroyed
after raids.

Nearly thousand persons were indicted for rum violations during the second year of prohibition, the bureau stated. Of this number 21,000 were convicted in open court, while 17,000 more pleaded guilty. Only 55 were acquitted, the bureau declared.

The prohibition bureau enters its third year. It was said, with enforcement a "reality." Its chief concer-nent along the Florida coast line.

CHIROPODIST TAKEN TO LONELY SPOT; IS TIED UP AND BEATEN

MACON, Ga., Jan. 14.—County and city officials were searching tonight for members of a band of men who last night took Dr. R. Mills, a chiropodist, in an automobile to a lonely spot in the woods outside this city and after tying him to a tree, severely beat him. The episode became known tonight when Dr. Mills reported it to the police. Mills' small son, who had accompanied his father on the trip in the belief that it was in answer to a call for professional services, was brought back to the city in the automobile. Mills was left half conscious, but walked back to his home, a distance of seven miles.

Down on the Farm

In New England, the men have "lumberjacks" in the snow. Can you imagine an American woman taking a trip with her husband under such circumstances? After his Dutch wife has been in country a few years and gone a good while of the American spirit of freedom and equality, friend husband is more apt to travel in the storage and the first cabin, in any vacation trip to the fatherland.

—O—

Francisco Villa. Mexican bandit, started his 500 best followers in fighting when he retired from professional fighting. The former fighters are proving such good farmers that the Mexican government will give them larger farms. Most crime and outlawry is due to misdirected energy. Divert it into proper channels and a good citizen usually can be made out of the worst.

—O—

Interest on long-time loans in New York City drops to 4 3/4 per cent. That's the lowest rate since August, 1917. This is important to borrowers. It is more important to the average citizen, not in the market for loans. Cheap money—low interest—always is a forerunner of good times. Money begins doing things when its ball and chain are made lighter.

They were virile pioneers, leaders of great modern America. In their day, their fishing accomplishments were the talk of the country and the envy of the world.

Yet how those ancient "sails" must murmur in bewilderment as they contemplate the enormous size of the fishing industry they founded.

For instance, Henry F. Forness retires as president of the Alaska Packers' Association of Seattle. Since 1893 this organization has packed 29,000,000 cases of salmon. It has 97 steamers and sailing vessels. Its sailing fleet is the finest under the American flag.

One million cases of salmon a year!

It takes a figure like that to make you realize the enormous scale on which we do things in this country.

In three recent months the railroads, despite business depression, hauled 425,000,000 tons of freight.

The figure is so big that it cannot be fully conceived by any human mind.

America is the country that introduced "millions" and "billions" into the production of goods.

"Millions" and "billions" cannot be imagined or pictured by the human brain. That is why none of us realize the tremendous productive power of the Yankee Giant, our country.

Glibly we comment that the United States in a normal year produces 560,000,000 tons of soft coal, 920,000,000 bushels of wheat, 12,000,000 bales of cotton, 37,000,000 tons of pig iron and 18,600,000,000 gallons of crude oil.

Try to visualize any one of those figures. They are almost verifying in their size and indication of power.

Henry Ford wasn't pipe-dreaming when he said that if Germany hadn't thrown in the sponge, American mechanics would have covered her with boiler-plate.

Fifty per cent of the world's manufactured goods are produced in the United States.

A country with this enormous productive power cannot languish much longer in recuperative depression.

Human needs and American productive power are so big that before long "things will begin to run automatically."

It's a good thing, occasionally, to gander over figures like these. They make a thrill run up the spine, and from the heart swells up the glad song, "I'm an American!"

FAVORS HOSPITAL PLAN

Editor Daily News:

Likely all other regular winter residents of Daytona I am justly proud of the city of our adoption and feel that we should be willing and ready to support any project which is intended for the benefit and uplift of the community.

The present plan for a new hospital as outlined by the general committee meeting of January 5th has my entire sympathy and approval, and I am particularly interested in some of the features referring to women's part in the work. Especially do I appreciate the value of a woman's auxiliary in connection with the hospital plan since I have been a member of such an organization in Holyoke, Mass., for several years, and know from actual experience the help such as auxiliaries is able to give. We attended to the supplying and maintaining of such items as household linens, kitchen utensils, etc., and many times supplied many of the extra dainties which appeared on the table.

We have our own fund created by receipts from benefit fairs and similar entertainments, and also by annual dues, and this permits us to provide care for man, indigent women and children without unnecessary red tape or delay. It is a splendid work.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs.) J. H. AFFLECK.

GREENWICH VILLAGE HAS CHAMPION "PUG" GENE TUNNEY WINS

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Greenwich Village is celebrating today. For the first time in its history the "Village" boasts a pugilistic champion. His name is Gene Tunney.

By outpointing the veteran Battling Levinsky in 12 rounds at Madison Square Garden last night, Tunney became the light-heavyweight champion of America and has a diamond studded Tex Rickard belt today to prove it.

Tunney is coming along. He has been boxing at intervals ever since he returned from France after the world war ended, but he has been backward. For one thing, he had a lot of trouble with his hands. That trouble has left him now and as a result he boxes with real confidence in his last four or five fights he has shown the earmarks of a first class scrapper who may some day be considered as a heavyweight champion.

Tunney was expected to score a decisive victory over Madden and entered the ring a prima favorite but failed to live up to expectations.

The big plastered boxer indifferently and several times appeared to be in trouble as a result of Madden's aggressiveness.

As Tunney came to the front, Big Fred Fulton, pride of Minnesota, and the only heavyweight fighter backed by a syndicate, let his stock fall with an audible thud when he failed to get better than a draw with Battling Madden.

Tunney was expected to score a decisive victory over Madden and entered the ring a prima favorite but failed to live up to expectations.

The girl who married to keep away from college will learn better.

Casino Burgoyne Stoves Ornaments Only, No Longer

Tourists and others who ventured into the Casino Burgoyne during the recent cold spell and then dashed out again because of the refrigerator-like atmosphere therein, now may venture back with some assurance that at least the chill has been taken off the air inside the building.

There are two big stoves in the building, one at each end, but for all the good they have done the past few days they had as well been ornaments. There had been considerable complaint about the lack of heat and when the attention of Judge H. T. Titus, of the city commission, was called to the situation yesterday afternoon and he was told there was no wood with which to start fires, he said he did not know the wood supply had been exhausted and he immediately had a load delivered.

The stoves were not drawing very well this morning, but the temperature inside the casino had been raised considerably.

Frigidaire

The latest gift of science to the health, convenience and pleasure of the American family.

A most important gift, because it benefits the family in its one great necessity—it's food.

A really wonderful gift, because it not only preserves food perfectly and prevents its waste, but does so with an actual saving of expense.

SUCH IS FRIGIDAIRE

Why provide with infinite thought and care fine linens of snowy whiteness, boneless and silverware and a wealth of beautiful flowers and then serve your expected guests with just ordinary food, it's no longer necessary.

The crowning touch of distinction is an expensive saddle in the super quality of leather derived from a Frigidaire.

Food comes to your table from the crisp cold of Frigidaire in an appealing and delicious unknown to any food box.

Meats and birds can be "frozen" under your own care to just the right point of tenderness and flavor, so your guests may eat the most exciting comestibles.

Fruits and salads contain all their natural freshness.

WEEKLY REPORT OF DAYTONA DAIRIES

All cattle in and close to the city are being tested for tuberculosis. Horses having been tested are as follows: Brigitte, 50 head; Clason, 20; Ellenswood, 20; Hutchinson, 24; Earle Foster, 43; Leville, 45; Rubin, 17; Mallory, 43; Mistretta, 25; Papwell, 26; Rawlings, 25; Stevens, 25; Trott, 12; S. O. Doty, 13; W. T. Simmons, 15; Polkett, 21; Brumacher, 2; Industrial School, 1; Mount, 1; Wellington, 13; Mrs. Gainer, 1; Chandler, 1; Besser Smith, 1.

Every milk cow will be tested before Dr. Gillis, the assistant state veterinarian, leaves. Those known single cows will call on me at 549 South Palmetto avenue, as it is a hard proposition to go out in the woods to look them up. As I stated before, this test costs you nothing, being absolutely free, as our aim is to have everything here free from T. B. Those who do not report their cows this coming month will be the ones who may be users after the state leaves here, as everyone in the city must be tested not only by our city ordinance but by order from the State Live Stock and Sanitary Board.

This is the stage you are holding out from and sooner or later I will find your cow and order her tested at some firm using milk until such time as cows are tested.

SEAPLANE REPORTED LOST BETWEEN MIAMI AND BIMINI WITH 4

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—An American seaplane piloted by Captain Charles E. Smith, of the South African Air Service, and containing passengers Captain and Mrs. F. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Farrell, and Captain L. L. Johnson, left Miami for Bimini, Florida, yesterday morning. It failed to arrive at Bimini at the time appointed, however, and all efforts to locate it were fruitless. It was finally determined that the plane might have landed at the sea in 10 miles from here to Bimini.

In Shanghai, for instance, the city government has just permitted the encroachment of a motor bus line, the first ever known in China. The chassis are of American make, the body and seats being built in Shanghai.

Russia very evidently is receiving well from her position of isolation and much merchandise is finding its way there from European countries. Perhaps the time is not far distant when America will re-establish relations with a well-known car export market.

South America offers a vast and virgin field, while Mexico is said to be in better condition than at any time for many years.

All in the automotive field appears to have good reason for optimism in future export prospects.

home consumption. There were 18½ million receipts of corn of primary points, the visible supply increasing 1,305,000 bushels. Receipts of wheat were 14 million, ending as a result of the growers holding out for higher prices. The visible supply decreased 1,625,000 bushels. It is reported that 1,000,000 bushels of feed wheat has been bought for Russia and 250,000 sacks of hard wheat for consumption.

Call money dropped to 2 per cent and time loans could be negotiated at 4½ per cent if guaranteed by first-class collateral. Both the Victory 4½ and the 3½ notes have crossed par and all issues of Liberty bonds are rapidly approaching par.

Heavy financing shows a big investment made by the American public.

A big gain is reported in the export buying of American corn. The mildness of the winter has hurt the coal industry. The shipments of anthracite are nearly two million tons per month than this week last year.

Building is increasing in volume, especially in the northwestern states.

Seven hundred and nineteen commercial failures were reported to R. G. Don & Co. this week, totaling 549 last week.

The amount of cotton bought last week this week was estimated at 179,000 bales against 170,987 bales last week. The exports for the week were 22,500 bales, against 17,900 bales last week. The total exports since August were 1,887,271 bales. While the governments' ginning started this week fell below expectations, traders believe that the future results will justify the government's estimate of a crop of 8,346,000 bales. The final ginning report will be issued Friday. Spinners took 2,120,000 bales this week against 245,000 bales last week. Prices were depressed.

Call money in New York ranged from 4 to 1 per cent. Money was more plentiful than for weeks, the 2 per cent rate establishing a new low record for the past year. This is more plentiful in the Middle West than in two years, it is reported.

The average price of 20 cents per pound industrial goods and 120 New York stock exchanges and 120,000 bales of cotton last week and 120 the week last year. The average price of 20 representative rail road rates was 25, against 23 the week before and 24 the week last year.

Russia is expected to buy three million bushels of American corn through the operations of the government's relief committee. However, as a result of the large surplus and the big crop, this would hardly be believed. It is estimated that American corn export possibilities probably of 10,000,000 bushels will be available for the next year.

London was most prominent of the rail road group, averaging 25 as the highest price in over two years.

Antony, the gasoline, National Lead, Fairman Brothers, Barnes Bros. Wilson & Co., American Woolen and American Express rose from 1 to 3 points.

Daytona Negro Bootlegger Not to Receive Commission as Notary From the Governor

Within a few hours the following telegram was received from the secretary of state:

"Answer your wire. Commission will not be issued to S. S. Richardson."

(Signed)

"H. CLAY CRAWFORD,
Secretary of State."

The following telegram was also received from the governor:

"Commission Richardson will not be issued. Had no knowledge of facts when appointment was made. Thank you for your wire."

(Signed) "CARY A. HARDEE, Governor."

Richardson has been known to be implicated in the bootlegging business among negroes for many years in this vicinity, and is the self-styled "political boss" of the negro section of the city.

Papers for his appointment were forwarded to Tallahassee some time ago, asking that he be appointed notary public. The appointment was made, with the facts of the case unknown as the governor's wife states, and returned here. At the last meeting of the county commissioners the appointment came before them, as well as the bond, signed by two Daytona citizens. These were approved, also because he was unknown to the board, so C. L. Vining, commissioner from this district, states, and Richardson has since been waiting for his commission from the governor, for which he is due one long, long wait.

Prof. Sellers to Speak at M. E. Church Tonight

Robert S. Holmes, who will have charge of the Sunday evening service at the Community Methodist Church in the absence of the pastor, Dr. Butler, announced last night that Prof. Ernest O. Sellers has consented to deliver an address to the congregation and also will sing a solo.

Prof. Sellers, who is from the Baptist college in New Orleans, will speak this afternoon in the Auditorium, his address being the second number of the Open Forum series.

Advantages of Membership in Company "A", 154th Infantry Daytona, F.N.G. Are Set Forth

By CAPT. H. C. F. DOHM.

Recent news articles relating to our local military company prompts the writer to add a few lines of information for the benefit of the public, so that the matter may be properly understood.

This organization is not unlike any other in our community, so far as its prosperous existence is concerned. They all have a hard time to keep a-going, and all need that continual push and pep to keep them alive and healthy.

Company A, Daytona, is the pioneer senior unit in Florida, under reorganization of the army. It has until recently been also the "smartest" and best-drilled unit in the state. It has cost our community no money; but has to the contrary brought in approximately $25,000 of U. S. government money, which has been spent locally by its members. Its name and reputation has added to Daytona's publicity. From all points of view, it is a good asset to the community.

The citizen who has property holdings, large business interests and all other persons who give civic matters careful and considerate thought, must admit the numerous advantages of having an efficient military organization nearby.

Through the indifference of our citizens and through company mismanagement, our once "Snappy Company A" has fallen from its high previous standard.

I was placed in command of the unit last November, being detailed to this work purposely for its reorganization and have taken active steps along these lines.

The first step to place the company on a better footing required the "weeding out" process of undesirable members. Next the securing of new officers and men, with enough "gumption" to stimulate new interest. Next, the financial department needed adjustment and, finally, the company being in a condition to deserve it, the public is required to give its moral support.

In two months the deficiencies have been almost rectified. Fifteen undesirable members will be discharged either physically or dishonorably. A summary court-martial will be held in a week or ten days at which certain members will be tried.

Two new live officers have been appointed. They are First Lieutenant John V. Morris, whose reputation as a drill instructor is well known, having served by the government, if being executed in class and quantity the same as is issued to the active regular army. Company A drills every Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the Armory. The public—that is, all men, young men, women, young women—are welcome to attend these drills as spectators and are promised an interesting hour of entertainment in a clean, well-lighted, well-ventilated and very large armory.

Elks, Lacking the Services of Stars, Romp Over Legion

Probably it was the cold weather, or it may have been the Clarendon ball, at any rate, only a handful of the faithful fans saw the Elks' indoor baseball team romp on the American Legion team in the Armory last night to the tune of 30 to 22.

The Elks' team was minus the services of the veterans, Jack Martin and Cy Young, but they conscripted Rodgers and Titus and were able to defeat the Legion decisively with a patched up team.

Dwyer, who pitched a wonderful game for the Legion against the high school last week, was in the box last night and pitched a steady game but errors and the Elks' batters were too much for him. Cuperell, pitching for the Elks, was hit hard in the early innings, but allowed only one run after the fourth.

Actinism or Chemistry of Sunlight

By G. M. Randall, M. D.

"Actinism" is derived from the Greek word "Actis," meaning "ray." The sun's rays have a chemical effect on plants and the germs in the soil, and biological processes in animals. These rays differ from those of the sun. Actinism consists of luminosity, and increases with much diminishment by the sun's rays. Actinism is produced by the articular rays, which are light, although the action of certain seeds is electrical rays, as they are recent experiments show. The intensity of actinism varies with the time of day, and the season and the location where the action is made. This is due to the fact at which the rays touch the object. Actinic rays of the sun are intercepted by red, orange, yellow, and other substances containing these pigments, but not the transmission of other rays of the solar spectrum. The photoelectric rays may be illuminated by a window of glass with colored glass, whereas sufficient light is admitted violet. Indigo light would destroy the photoelectric rays.

The practical business man may not himself be a scientific man, but the practical business man, if he is alert to find the new trials in business, utilizes scientific facts brought out by scientific research of scientific topics. It may seem inappropriate to lay journal to treat in detail a scientific topic, but a consideration of actinism and a suitable comprehension of its everyday applicability and utility in Florida is important to every man. Appearances of the above, it will be well to consider that one of the most valuable utilities in our present consideration of the sanitarian subject is proper conception of the value of Florida's sunlight.

Winter Resident Possessor Unique Parole From Govt.

G. M. P. Holt is one native Floridian who regardless of where his fancy may lead him at other seasons of the year, always returns to his native land for the winter, or at least part of it.

Mr. Holt was born at Saint Marks, Fla., and since he retired from the business several years ago, spends his time traveling and seeing the country. He has just returned to Daytona where he expects to spend the winter.

Mr. Holt is a Confederate veteran and is one of the proud possessors of a parole given the Confederate soldiers by the Federal government when General Lee surrendered. Mr. Holt showed his parole to a representative of the Daily News with the following comment: "This is one of Uncle Sam's curios presented to a Florida Cracker in 1865, requesting him to return to his home and be a good boy in the future. The Florida Cracker has complied with Uncle Sam's request to the letter."

The parole reads as follows:

BRITISH SEEKING BURSTING AIRPLANE TANK

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Experiments with an airplane petrol tank, which was dropped from an height without bursting, have been made at Farnborough Aerodrome.

Fastened to a running engine, the tank was dropped from the top of the highest airplane shed onto a concrete base and did not burst.

Many airmen have lost their lives through petrol tanks bursting and catching fire.

Fuel valve has been found in the tanks dry, or below water level.

Seaman Mitchell Accepts Challenge of One-Round Hogan

Seaman Mitchell, just recently discharged from Uncle Sam's navy and now making his home in Daytona, during the time that he was serving as a sailor, had earned a reputation for himself with the gloves in the square ring. He has many victories to his credit and states that he can give a good account of himself right now; he is anxious to meet One-Round Hogan, who recently challenged him.

Take Care of Your Figure or You Will Lose It

The relief and freedom experienced by young ladies who have packed their corsets in the dressing rooms and then danced with unrestrained freedom is liable for a while to be carried further.

A follower of the corsetless fad, for it certainly is a fad, will notice that the figure will slowly but surely put on weight in the most undesirable places. The figure will gradually assume the appearance of the corsetless figure so especially among women immigrating to this country. They have, we must admit, what we call a desirable looking figure.

For the destruction of corsets, that we can do, we offer soft, soft and flexible leather, a band of leather, the feeling of being supported, a comfortable band.

Clarendon Ball, Opening of Social Winter Season Here, Most Brilliant in Its History

More than two hundred prominent citizens of the Triple Cities, tourists from as far west as California, and visitors from many nearby cities assembled in the Clarendon hotel last night for the annual dinner-dance, which always closely follows the opening of the famous resort for the winter season.

The spacious hotel dining room was artistically decorated with ferns, potted plants and native flowers. The dinner was served from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock, and the menu was the best that experts in the culinary art could provide.

The Clarendon this year has many guests who have never been here before, and the intermingling of guests from other hotels and year-round residents of the Triple Cities afforded them a wonderful opportunity to meet and know the leaders in the social and business life of the flat-top Country and to make them feel perfectly at home in a land of strangers.

One of the most interesting features of the annual ball at the Clarendon is the remarkable display of handsome new gowns, the latest creations of the milliner's art, which it always brings out, and this season was no exception to the rule. On the contrary, it was generally remarked that this season's ball set a new record for the dazzling array of Dame Fashion's newest fancies.

Tucker's famous orchestra, under direction of Ray O'Brien, furnished music for the dinner and for the dancing which followed until a late hour. Mr. O'Brien is one of those experts in his particular calling who is always ready for any emergency. Consequently he did not prepare any set program for the evening, but announced that he and his orchestra stood ready at a moment's notice to play any piece that any guest might call for. Mr. O'Brien's repertoire was taxed to the utmost, but he stood the test successfully, and received many compliments from the guests for his part in sustaining the national reputation of the Clarendon.

Among those attending the dinner-dance were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. A. Van de Vord, Mr. and Mrs. F. Gheen and Miss Agatha Given of Daytona; A. E. Hutchinson, Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Diem, Daytona Beach; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Narrowly Avoided May Races as Cars Go Down Daytona Beach

Thrills, speed and fourth event, and in the maneuvers of Jackson's Chevrolet, No. 9, which was playing all around the other cars in the fourth and final event until valve trouble developed and the car was put out of the races for good. The first event was not held, and four cars entered Event No. 2. Distance 10 miles—First prize, $50, went to Bowles in Hudson, No. 14. Third prize to Johnson, driving San Juan Special, No. 13.

It is said that the speed developed during the racing was the fastest ever run in a lap race. With one and a quarter miles laps the straightaway speed recorded was better than 120 miles per hour.

Bill Endicott showed his efficiency as director of events, and great improvement was in evidence over the races of January 2. Although well attended the crowd was not as large as on that date. Bill Lindley was manager of the course, and the judges were R. L. Setton and J. R. Miller. H. F. Thompson was official timer.

Ten cars entered Event No. 3, distance 15 miles. First prize, $100, went to Bowles in Hudson, No. 14. Time, 16½ min. Second prize, $25, won by Walker in Essex, No. 11. Third prize, $25, to Stewart driving Onida Special, which won the No. 2.

Almost any man who seriously asks himself what he thinks about the Hupmobile will find that he has always held a high opinion of its value.

Whether he has owned a Hupmobile or not, somewhere, somehow, he has gained the positive impression that it is a car among cars.

For instance, he is almost sure to recollect that he has never talked to anyone who did not feel about the Hupmobile as he feels.

If he has traveled extensively, it will be borne in on his memory that wherever he went he found exactly the same conclusions concerning the Hupmobile.

Another fact--more startling and more significant by far--is the astonishingly few cars which have built such a solid enduring reputation as he knows the Hupmobile to enjoy.

If he asks himself why this is so, he will find that it is because he has, consciously or unconsciously, recognized in the Hupmobile those very elements of reliability which every man hopes to get when he buys a motor car.

H. Edmonds Points Out Dangers in the Agricultural Conference

The proposed agricultural conference called by President Harding, and the manufacturers' record, warn of the possibility of danger in that conference, and in an interview with the Daytona News said:

"The agricultural conference called through Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, by President Harding, can be made of great value or of great harm to the agricultural interests of the whole country. There is a tremendous fight on hand in this country by certain international financial influences to hold down the value of farm products. One of the foremost leaders of the country has recently said that American farm products must be kept at a low price as we may compete successfully with the low rice labor of Russia and other countries whose wages are triflingly small

MACKHAM, LINDLEY AND BROWN WIN RACES ON BEACH

Over five thousand people were on the beach yesterday afternoon to witness the races. The beach was lined with cars—each hub to hub for a distance of five miles, besides the thousands who were standing back of the wires along the greatest straightaway race course in the world. It was a great sight.

St. Louis was given away in which Mackham, driving a special, won the first race. Lindley, driving the Lindley Special, which he built entirely himself and which has an automatic motor, won the second race. Brown, driving a Maudslay, won the third race.

The cars were the most accurate adjusted and therefore won the races. A great deal depends upon the accurate adjustment of the carburetor, engine and driveshaft to maintain the greatest durability and power. Has the health of the body depends upon the adjustment of the spinal column. If a vertebra of the spinal column is out of alignment—pinching a nerve, it is sure to cause trouble in the human motor. The vertebrae of the spinal column must be in perfect alignment or you cannot expect to keep well and win the race in business success. When you notice that first lack of power, consult our doctors on the human spinal column.

So says Dr. E. J. Marshall, Chiropractic Specialist of Daytona, Fla.

Interesting Facts Pertaining to Early History of Florida Contained in Read's New Book

BY HOWARD D. WEAVER

Many interesting facts pertaining to the early history of Florida from the sixteenth century down to the present are contained in a book recently compiled and issued by Henry T. Read, of Jacksonville, Savannah and New York.

The title of the book is "The Waterways of Florida," but it by no means confined to the title, but on the contrary gives numerous interesting facts about the early history of the state, the natural geographical advantages, the hundreds of points of historical interest and the developments and improvements that have been made from earliest times down to the present day.

Mr. Read, the author, is a marine expert, surveyor of waterways, maritime writer and publisher of national reputation. Several years ago he became greatly interested in Florida, its history and its development, and after a careful study and investigation he produced his book, "The Waterways of Florida."

The book is written in four epochs including the sixteenth and seventeenth century, improvements in the eighteenth century, development in the nineteenth century and accomplishments of the present day.

In addition to its coast line of 1,462 miles, greater than that of any other state, it is shown that Florida has 11 rivers, 25 canals, 72 creeks, 90 large springs and 100 lakes, including Lake Okeechobee which covers 1,250 square miles.

The book contains a detailed description of all the Florida ports, their principal industries with illustrations and maps showing all the waterways of the state, besides a wealth of information of historic value.

Concerning Daytona the book says:

"The port of Daytona is situated on the western bank of the Halifax river 12 miles north of New Smyrna and 6 miles south of St. Augustine. It has a wide front of about 1,000 miles which is sea-walled. The river here is about one-half mile wide and the water at the docks and piers of the Halifax River Yacht Club is 10 feet deep. Four bridges span the river at this waterway place."

"Two boat lines operate for freight and passengers between this port, the city of St. Augustine and New Smyrna and during the winter season one line operates south to Palm Beach through the inland waterway. Yacht supplies and gasoline are obtainable there. Also there is a marine railway repair and machine shop."

"The beach on the front of the peninsula is connected by the bridges and extends from Matanzas inlet 15 miles south of St. Augustine to Mosquito inlet, a distance of about 100 miles. This beach includes Ormond Beach and Willard-by-the-sea Beach and is probably the longest and finest stretch of beach land in America. The width at low tide is about 500 feet and the sand is of the grains that pack hard and smooth with the ebb and flow of the tides. This stretch of beach is noted for automobile racing the work ever having been the scene of some of the greatest races and racers of two continents."

"The best automobile roads of the state lead into Daytona, coming from St. Petersburg, Fort Myers, Pensacola, Lakeland, Jacksonville, etc."

"The city of Daytona is rapidly built up on upholding land and large oil trees, wide streets and boulevards. There are 29 major and 25 minor roads in the city, which accommodate during the season a larger number of people than are taken care of at Sarasota. In fact the life of Daytona is somewhat the same as Sarasota, or as the sporting element goes. The boys are located along the river from Daytona proper and at the hotels on the beach."

Mr. Read is a firm believer in the possibilities that lie dormant in the magnificent waterways of Florida and is greatly interested in their early development. To this end he is planning to visit all the important towns and cities of the state and hold mass meetings for the purpose of arousing the interest of the citizens along the line.

He was in Daytona last week to confer with officials of the chamber of commerce regarding a meeting to be held in this city and will return soon to complete the arrangements for a talk talk on the proposition here.

Are You Getting Somewhere or Nowhere?

Speaking of success in life, JAMES J. HILL, the great railroad builder, said:—

*"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life you can easily find out.
The test is simple and it is infallible. Are you able to Save Money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose, as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."*

THE year that just closed was a hard one. Thousands who never felt the pinch of poverty before felt it during 1921. Never in the lives of the present generation have conditions been so disturbed or uncertain; never have the improvident had so much reason to regret their lack of money to fall back upon.

Even those who escaped financial worries during the past year were nevertheless impressed with the wisdom of making some provision for unforeseen contingencies that the future may hold. In short, nearly everyone has promised himself that with the new year he will take steps to protect himself against the possibility of financial mishap.

The strong-minded will adhere to this good resolution and regularly bank a part of their income; the weak will find themselves at the end of the year just where they are now. The first of the year brings many bills and obligations, and it will be hard not to say, "I'll start to put away something next month." Then will begin the process of separating the sheep from the goats. Those who resolutely keep their promise to themselves will find at the end of the year that the effort was worth while, even if it had been ten times as hard. The "next month" group will be at this time next year still in the "next month" frame of mind.

This is going to be a year of Thrift. Thousands who never realized the necessity for an anchor to windward realize it now and will act accordingly.

To these thousands the Merchants Bank offers the facilities of its Savings Department, which will enable them, by systematic saving, to build up an account which will enable them to weather any financial depression they may experience in the future. A savings account may be opened with the Merchants Bank with an initial deposit as small as $1. Four per cent interest is paid, compounded quarterly.

How About the Future?

Financial independence is within the reach of nearly everybody, but it is attained by few. Where will you be at 65? Statistics show that of one hundred people 25 years old, 54 will be dependent on others at 65; 36 will be dead, many of them for want of attention that money would have secured; five will be working for a meager living; four of them will be well-to-do and one will be independent. Out of the entire 100, only five will be in satisfactory circumstances. Yet, proper measures taken in youth for conserving their incomes would have secured financial independence for many more out of each hundred and might have saved the lives of many who died before the age of 65.

Putting aside something regularly is buying financial independence on the partial-payment plan. It is simple, certain, does not entail undue sacrifice, and in peace of mind and self respect is worth more than words can describe.

The Merchants Bank OF DAYTONA

has made it easy for one to save part of one's income by maintaining a special

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

This institution has always encouraged thrift, and no account has been too small for our Savings Department to handle.

The Merchants Bank Pays 4%

Compounded Quarterly on Savings Accounts

IT IS NOT WHAT YOU MAKE BUT WHAT YOU SAVE THAT COUNTS.

Never Too Late

It is never too late to begin to accumulate money, but the thrift habit, if acquired in childhood, usually lasts through life. Parents are anxious that their children be well schooled in arithmetic, grammar and the other usual subjects, but they often overlook the fact that children may be schooled in thrift as well. Fathers struggle to acquire a competence to leave to their children and carry life insurance for the same reason; a child can be given no better heritage than the habit of thrift and the self-dependence that is an inseparable part of it.

Accounts may be opened in the Savings Department of the Merchants Bank either by parents for their children or by children for themselves. It is well for parents not to overlook the feeling of assurance and self-respect that comes to a child that goes to a bank the same as a grown person and opens an account for himself or herself.

Whether money comes to you in large or small amounts, try to put part of it away regularly each week or month where it will not only be safe but will earn interest as well. You may think you have a safe hiding place for your money—you may not fear the "Rainy Day," but the story goes that one of his generals said to Washington, "The British can't break through here." "I know they can't," said Washington, "but I am going to see that they don't."

Do not think that because you may only be able to save a small amount at a time that an account in the SAVINGS DEPARTMENT will not be to your advantage. You would be surprised to know how many well-to-do people maintain such accounts for their children, starting when the youngsters are small and adding a few dollars a week or month until maturity. The cumulative growth of such deposits is astonishing.

The money deposited in the SAVINGS DEPARTMENT is under the direct management of the Board of Directors of the Merchants Bank. The same conservative management and the same fidelity to sound principles of banking that have made the Merchants Bank of Daytona such a successful, rock-ribbed institution will protect every dollar placed in the SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

It Offers You

If you receive wages or salary, plan now to become independent. If you plan to engage in a business venture of your own in a few years, start now to establish a connection with a great commercial bank that can extend you every possible banking service. If you are well-to-do, make provision in this way for a substantial credit for your growing children or any other dependents you may have.

Don't allow yourself or those dependent on you to be at the mercy of circumstances that may possibly change for the worse some time. A bank account has been a friend in need to thousands; here is an opportunity for you to provide yourself or your dependents with a sure antidote for unemployment, illness, hard times or other misfortune. Special provision has been made to make the opening of an account in this department a simple matter, quickly handled.

Progress in the world comes from improvements that are the result of thrift and foresight, and no words can overstate the feeling of security that comes from having money in the bank.

The world is divided into two classes of people—the "haves" and the "have nots." It is up to every individual to determine for himself in which class he cares to live. The Merchants Bank now offers you a convenient and easy way of helping the "haves."

The Merchants Bank is the only bank of Daytona and of Volusia County to maintain an association with the facilities this institution has for handling amounts. Every transaction is done in confidence, no matter how large or small the amount involved. We realize that the boy of to-day, in the man of tomorrow, and that an institution having for its future can well afford to care to have the most about depositing.

Work commenced Thursday at noon on the Harold Owen bungalow on Vermont avenue, Marshall Park. This well-planned home will consist of a large living room, with library or den, to the right, which will be equipped with a large coat closet in which will be a Murphy bed. A beautiful dining room connected with the living room by a gracefully arched opening and built-in book cases, two bed rooms with corner exposures, and bath connections as well as roomy clothes closets, a wonderfully arranged kitchen and screened rear porch from which the attic stairs start, where two large bedrooms may be added with very little extra cost. A dandy basement completes this modern six room bungalow.

Work is progressing rapidly on the J. A. Bennett bungalow, which he is erecting at 329 Live Oak street, Daytona Beach. While this has the appearances of being a small house, the interior is very surprising to any one,

DAYTONA BEACH

Stetson Students Present Comedies at Aud. on Friday

Seabreeze Five Defeats Ancient City Deaf Mutes

On Friday evening, January 20, the Theta Alpha Phi Dramatic Fraternity of Stetson University will bring their late successful play to the Auditorium at Daytona Beach.

Those who saw this same organization present "Contrary Mary" and the "Mocking Bird" here last season will surely be on hand with their friends to witness these three one-act comedies: "A Quiet Family," "A Pair of Lunatics" and "The Arrival of Kitty," and also the well remembered, "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden."

Both teams displayed brilliant passing and basket shooting and the game was much closer than the score would indicate. At the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 12 in favor of Seabreeze, but in the second half the local boys rapidly drew away from their opponents, the final score being 25 to 15. This is the first time the Seabreeze boys have defeated the Deaf Mutes in five years.

Bunch led for the locals with 12 points to his credit, while Holland starred for St. Augustine.

The most delightful thing about the "Quiet Family" is its unexpectedness from start to finish. The situation is so unusual, the plot so different, the climax so sudden and so funny that the audience is left fairly gasping and holding its sides when the curtain finally falls.

And surely the situation of "A Pair of Lunatics" is far from being trite, for what could be more interesting and novel background for a story than a lunatic asylum? At times the air becomes almost electric with excitement, and only dramatic irony keeps it from being really tragic. But these incidents are more than balanced by a constant running fire of quick, witty repartees and lively humor and, yes, just a flavor—a mere hint—of romance.

"The Arrival of Kitty" is a pretty little love story, whose interest centers around the "eternal triangle": two men and a woman. As the plot unfolds, villainy, intrigue, clever scheming, during attempts at rescue and most unexpected ridiculous situations follow one another to a dramatic climax. The play is exceedingly funny and in many respects similar to the well-known success, "Charlie's Aunt," but to many it is still more farcical.

But far from being a small factor in the evening's performance is the "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden" chorus. The well-blended and trained voices of the chorus with the accompaniment of the orchestra create a veritable witchery of lifting, joyous melody which alone would be delightful, but to make it even more charming the most exquisite summery costumes and tropical scenery are used, and these combined with the lovely graceful actions and semi-dancing produce a picture whose beauty it would be hard indeed to surpass.

The university orchestra has prepared special musical numbers and the whole evening's program will be of unusual interest from beginning to end. Including the official staff there are fifty people participating in the entertainment.

A. E. Bennett arrived Friday afternoon from his home in Middlebury, Vt., and is located for the winter at the home of E. C. Brown at 324 Live Oak street, Daytona Beach.

Attractive Log Lodges Built By Miss M. Chaffee Now Completed

Miss Marguerite Chaffee, one of New York City's best known artists and interior decorators, who is noted for her originality in this exacting profession, also has original ideas along other lines, and one of these she is putting into very charming effect amid the pines that adorn the banks of the Halifax river just off Halifax avenue in Seabreeze.

Some time ago Miss Chaffee conceived the idea of erecting a number of lodges which should be patterned, inside and out, after the fashion of the log cabins our early ancestors lived in in the days when the Indians roamed the forests and with eager eyes searched for a crack between the logs through which they might send a feather shaft and thus show a reduced population of the palefaces when the next census was taken.

With this end in view Miss Chaffee, who spends a portion of her time in Daytona with her parents, searched diligently for an ideal location for the lodges she had in mind, and eventually also found it on the Seabreeze side of the beautiful Halifax river. There she purchased two and one-half acres of ground with a river frontage of 300 feet and extending back to Halifax bay. The north line of the property adjoins the Clarence golf course, the property is beautifully wooded, gives a commanding view both of the river and the golf course and, in other words, is ideally located for the purpose Miss Chaffee had in mind.

Then the charming and energetic young adventurer into the realms of real estate and home building engaged Puquay & Gheen, contractors, to build the houses she wanted and she gave them the plans and specifications. Puquay & Gheen had built many houses of many different kinds, but they had never built anything like that before, but under the direction of Miss Chaffee, who knew what she wanted and exactly how she wanted it, they went to work.

And the result today is three of the coziest and most home-like and altogether attractive log lodges that anyone ever set eyes upon.

The lodges are built of cypress logs cut from the native trees clinched with concrete instead of mud, and are constructed to blend harmoniously with the landscape. Each lodge has a large living room with an old-fashioned open fireplace and wide chevrons, two bedrooms and bath with modern fixtures, including shower, and a kitchen. There is ample closet room. Hardware and old wrought-iron fixtures like those the early settlers used have been installed to give the lodges the realistic primitive atmosphere.

Each lodge is completely furnished and ready for occupancy. Linen, silver, imported china and furniture have all been made to order under the personal supervision of Miss Chaffee. In fact, Miss Chaffee has provided everything for the prospective purchaser except the groceries. There is an oil stove in the kitchen and with a tank attached for heating water.

The lodges are reached by a private road cut through the forest from Halifax Avenue, and Miss Chaffee is having driveways and walkways built through the grounds. She also plans to construct a private pier and dock on the Halifax river.

Just to get the full effect of her handiwork, Miss Chaffee and her two sisters, Mrs. H. S. Parsons and Miss Hyland Chaffee, cooked supper in one of the lodges last night and spent the night there. She has placed the three completed lodges on the market for sale and intends to build a total of twenty if present plans measure as she expects.

Mrs. E. L. Potter, who went to Millbrook, N. Y., last week in company with her attractive daughter, Miss Helen Potter, who was returning to the Bennett school at that place, returned home the latter part of the week.

Cruise to Mediterranean and Other Points to be Made by Party Conducted by Mrs. Fay

A grand cruise de luxe to the Mediterranean and many other interesting points in Europe, under the auspices of Thos. Cook & Son and under the personal supervision of Mrs. Minnie Odell Fay of this city, will leave New York January 28th aboard the Cunarder "Caronia," a number of Triple Cities people being members of the party to enjoy the nine weeks' tour of the world.

Mrs. Fay, who has made a number of tours of the world, has been busily engaged in organizing the local party for the trip, those locally known making up the trip including:

Mrs. Geo. Sheets, of Daytona Beach and Lansing, Mich.

Mrs. R. W. Kemphall, of Peoria, Ill., who spent several winters at the Hotel Despland.

Mrs. Pearl Rix, of this city.

Mrs. Luis J. Ellis, Los Angeles, Calif., who spent last season at the Hotel Despland.

Fred J. Weber, 502 South Ridgewood Avenue, Daytona, and Mrs. Clayton A. Grinnell, Daytona Beach and Detroit, Mich.

Two young ladies of Madison, Wis., who are now in Paris, will join the local party at Gibraltar.

The party will leave New York at the end of this month, making the first stop at Madeira, and on to Seville and Granada, and will continue through the Mediterranean, visiting the Alcazar, Egypt, including Cairo and the Pyramids, with side trips up the Nile, on to Jerusalem and the Holy Lands, Nazareth and Bethlehem to Constantinople, Athens, Naples and the buried city of Pompeii, in Rome and other Italian cities.

At the second call at Naples Mr. Fay and a number of the party will cross Europe to the battlefields of France and other interesting points of France to return to New York at the end of March.

One feature of the trip of interest to Mrs. Fay's party will be the lectures which she will deliver on shipboard on points of interest on the trip, the talk to be based upon former visits which she has made to the points of interest.

During the course of the trip Mrs. Fay will deliver lectures on the following subjects: "Rock of Gibraltar," "Romantic Seville and the Alcazar," "Fascinating Southern Italy," "The French Riviera," "Palestine in Syria," "Memories of Galilee," "The Golden Horn—Constantinople," "Ancient Athens" and "The Acropolis." Sternberg's violin will also be shown aboard ship as an added attraction.

Other Tours Planned.

Mrs. Fay has also been organizing several other tours to be made later in the year.

A "Pagan Play" tour will be made leaving New York after the middle of June, embracing Italy, Bavaria, Switzerland, Paris and the battlefields, as well as England. The tour will take six weeks to complete.

On August 26th Mrs. Fay will also conduct a personal tour to the Orient leaving San Francisco at that time, visiting Hawaii, Japan, Philippines, China, Manchuria and Korea. Both of these tours will be under the direction of Thos. Cook & Son of New York and will be personally directed by Mrs. Fay.

During Mrs. Fay's absence she will be represented in Daytona by Mrs. Elizabeth Jacques, but Mrs. Fay is fully occupying her time during her vacation at her South Ridgewood Avenue home.

Mrs. J. P. Morgan and daughter, Mrs. Horatio Miller and her little son arrived Saturday afternoon from their home in Cincinnati, Ohio, and will spend the winter at Daytona Beach.

All members of the Palmgate Club are requested by the social department to purchase tickets for the club luncheon to be held Thursday, Jan. 26, before Monday evening. The luncheon will be one of the big social events of the winter season in club circles.

W. L. Jones and five hundred guests of the local attorney will be given by the Philanthropic Department of the Palmgate Club on Wednesday evening at the Coliseum. Prizes will be awarded for play and refreshments served during the evening.

Wounded From Last Night
Bill's wife was shot thereafter.
She never a match for Bill.
Harold's hand fisted lashed into Bill's face. More after blow with grim determination; his body quivered with rage, remembering Virginia.
He had to stop. He was not quite unfeeling.
The one impulse was help—but he could not. And dumbly he crashed to the floor. His hands remained in his hand.
"I'm not yet, you devil!" he shouted. "I'll get you—will you—you can't get away!"

"Leave her—cover the crack of the door and build up the fire. When he returned, her warm little flood of kisses was as if he had been absent for weary hours.
But her thoughts had been busy,
even in this moment. All at once she drew his ear close to her lips.
"Bill, will you listen to me a minute?" she asked.
"Listen! I'll listen to every word—
I think I know the way—at least a fighting chance—to life and safety."

XXVII

"Everything depends first," Virginia said, "whether or not you can crawl through the little window of the cabin."

Bill remembered his experience in the smoke-filled hut and he kissed her, whispering that would be easy.
"The next thing—ah—Harold's knows this in this room?"

"So it depends on Harold, does it?
I believe his snowshoes are here.
Harold left rather hurriedly—and I don't think he took them."

"What everything depends on—is getting out. The longer we stay here, without food, the more certain death is. I know I can't walk and you can't see. Bill, Harold is waiting right beneath; already it had cast shadows
in Virginia's eyes. She sat beside him on the sled.

It had been cruel hardship, the three days' journey. But fortune had played them well in this—they had found
the food Vesper abandoned.
Virginia was on the rapid road to recovery from her wound. It had not been severe; while she was lying still on the sled it had had
every chance to heal.

Bill's sight had grown steady, set
as the days had passed; already the Spirits of Mercy had permitted him,
at close range, to behold Virginia's face.

The moment he thinks you are gone, he'll come—not only to get his snowshoes but to gloat over me. I know him now! I can't understand why I didn't know him before. And then—we've got to take him by surprise."

"And then?"

Quickly, with few words, she told him the rest of her plot.

Harold walked into the trap set by Virginia.

"I'm coming for my snowshoes," he said.
"Virginia," he told her. "Then I'm going to go away." He tried to draw his battered, bloody lips into a smile.
"Come in and get them," she replied.

Her voice was low and lifeless. Harold stepped through the door. And then she uttered a curious cry.

"Now," she called sharply. There was no time for Harold to dash back even to be alarmed. A mighty force descended upon his body.

In less than a minute he was bound helpless.

"My God, what are you going to do to me?" he asked.

"Why, Harold, you are to be our little truck horse," Virginia replied, as she handed Bill more things. "You are going to pull the sled and show
the way down into Bradleyburg."

XXIX

When the dawn came full and bright over Clearwater, Bill and his party were ready to start.

When Harold had been thoroughly bound and his full instructions given, the thongs had been put about his ankles and removed from his wrists and he was permitted to do the packing.

That procedure was exceedingly simple; all available blankets were piled on the sled and made into bed for Virginia, and the six candles and such cooking utensils as were needed were packed in front. And then they had a short but detailed in-view with Harold.

Only once during the night did Bill
think he'd die?

"I won't go—I'll die first," he cried to Virginia. "Besides, you don't know the way and Bill can't see. You know if you kill me you'll die yourself."

"Fair enough," Virginia replied sweetly. "But take just this little word of advice, Bill and I were all reconciled to dying when we thought of you—and we won't mind it now if we're sure you are going along. And Bill will tell you that I can shoot straight. Perhaps you learned that fact last night."

They lengthened the thong that tied his ankles together, giving him room for a full walking step but not enough to leap or run.

They put on his hands a pair of awkward mittens that had been stiffened by mud and water, and lashed them to his wrists.

Then they slipped the thong that tied across his shoulders and under his arms like the loops of a lyre.
They were ready to go.

"I haven't much hope," Bill told Virginia when she was tucked into the bed on the sled. "But it's the only chance we have."

She smiled at him. "At least, Bill will have done everything we could; Goodby, little cabin—where I found happiness. Sometime, perhaps, we'll come back to you."

The man bent and kissed her, and she gave the word for Harold to start.

At the end of three bitter days, Bill Brinson stood once more on the hill that looked down upon Bradleyburg.

The twilight was growing in the east
beneath; already it had cast shadows
in Virginia's eyes. She sat beside him on the sled.

It had been cruel hardship, the
three days' journey. But fortune had played them well in this—they had found
the food Vesper abandoned.

Virginia was on the rapid road to recovery from her wound. It
had not been severe; while she was lying still on the sled it had had
every chance to heal.

Bill's sight had grown steady, set
as the days had passed; already the Spirits of Mercy had permitted him,
at close range, to behold Virginia's face.

A half-mile back, just before they approached the first fringe of the spruce forest, they had met a trapper just starting out on his line; and he had gladly consented to take Harold the rest of the way into town. He was to be lodged in prison to face a charge of attempted murder—a crime that in the northwest provinces is never regarded lightly.

"And you weren't drowned?" the trapper marveled, when he had set his breath. "We've been mourning
you for dead for months."

"Drowned—not a bit of it," Virginia answered gaily. "And don't mourn me any more."

Bill felt wholly able to follow the wood珍惜 track the trappers to their town. The footsteps of the men had grown faint and died away, and Virginia and he were left together on the hill.

They saw the church spire, tall and gaunt in the twilight, and Bill's strong arms pressed the girl close.
